“ I am so thankful that Gary, Betty, and Ann came into my life a quarter century ago. I could not have asked for a better man to call my father-in-law, as well as mentor and friend. Gary's example of giving and helping others epitomizes what we should all be in this world. Gary's example of a provider and protector and selfless giving continue to help me grow and strive to be a better version of the best husband and father that I can be for Gary's daughter, Ann, and his beloved grandkids, Travis, Tyler, and Kayla, whom he loved, adored, and spoiled rotten (I nothing but good ways). We will remember the visits where the kids dashed to Pop Pop always knowing that he had a great big bear hug and special treat goodies waiting in his pocket. Gary was truly a blessing in countless ways. Personally, I was unable to ever meet either of my own grandfathers. So, watching Gary's example and love with Travis, Tyler, and Kayla was more than special. The kids simply "lit up" when Pop Pop came into their presence. We so miss Gary's wit, smile, and laugh. We miss the camping trips with Pop Pop and Grandmom. We miss all of the visits and special moments. But, Gary is finally at peace in his new forever home. And, we have the memories, oh those plentiful memories ... that we cherish in our minds and in our hearts. Gary, thank you for you. Forever indebted. Until we meet again. Love you. ~ Troy

“ Gary Bogle is my Great Uncle who was like a second father to me as I was growing up. Every morning I'd be greeted the smell of coffee, a newspaper, and a warm smile with "HEY! How ya doin kid?" I remember doing his and my Grand pop Lloyd's hair each weekend with many futile attempts of helping them grow their hair back. He taught me a lot about gardening and flowers, and took me fishing with corn (even though we never caught anything). Uncle Gary was a great man, one of which many men looked up to. He served his country, was a hard worker, and helped develop a beautiful family. I don't think I would be where I am at today if I didn't have his mentorship and guidance during the early years in my life. He pushed me to be the best possible person that I could be, regardless of the circumstance I was in. I'm sorry I couldn't be to say "i'll see you later" one last time. From thousands of miles away in the middle of the ocean, I love you Uncle Gary. We will miss you terribly. We have the watch.

“ Gary is my Big Brother who was always there. He was a gentle soul and will truly be missed. There is not enough space to write or time to tell the impact he has had on the lives of many. One day, we will be together again. Until then, no matter how difficult, we must live our lives holding him in our heart.
