“ I (Doris Habermacher) met Annie several years ago while I was walking my dog and she was working in her yard. I told her how much I enjoyed her yard because it was so well kept. She was such a friendly and out going person that we soon became friends. This was soon after her friend Bessie and her cousin Dick passed away. We shared many of the same interests: eating out, gardening, day trips, visits to farmers' markets and Shady Maple to name a few. She was always willing to lend a hand to her friends. I still catch myself thinking of calling her to go out somewhere but that is no longer possible. I know she loved her family very much and was a good friend. I miss her.
