“ I was honored to know Philip many years ago, and am grateful we reconnected via Facebook over the last few years. He was funny, kind, and compassionate. I was so sad to hear he was battling cancer. Back then I remember how much he loved his immediate family. He adored his daughters: his pride & joy. My deepest condolences to them and the whole family for this profound loss. Philip, I know you are never far -- just on the other side of this thin veil and we trust you are unfolding into your next life -- healthy, healed, and at great peace. My deepest condolences to your family and his friends and colleagues.
